Speed Friending

Tuesday, November 8 from 7:00 – 8:00 PM

Make new friends at the library! Participants will receive a list of starter questions to get the conversation flowing, and 3 minutes to get to know each other better. Once those three minutes are up, a bell is rung and then you get to meet someone new! Following each speed friending, participants will mark on a card whether they would have an interest in meeting their friend again. If a mutual interest is noted, meaning that the person you have picked has also picked you, the library will provide each participant with the other's contact information. Studies show that 60% of people meet again after this type of event! Please note that this program is designed to foster friendships and is NOT a dating service. [Registration for adults is required.
