

The Cat travels to space

By:Calon Cardinal

Once there was a cat that found a rocketship. Then he went inside and then he climbed up there and pressed the big red button. Then the rocketship flew up with the cat. Then the cat climbed out of the spaceship. Then he went to every planet and then he saw the sun then he goed towards the sun in space . then he touched the sun and got burned. Then he fell down to his home and went back inside. And the cat lived happily ever after.
