

The Superhero Team

By Julian Workman

Once upon a time there was a superman daddy and his name was Cory. And there was a bad guy named Banana Man. He could draw bananas. And then there was only one superhero that could defeat all the bad guys. It was Super Miley. And then the Banana Man didn't have any bananas left because he got eaten by the old wolf. Then the wolf said, oh I'm so full. All the superheroes didn't know how to fight, so they got trained by Super Miley. They became good superheroes and they defeated every single monster. Their name was Super Miley Team. Superhero daddy was the only one who could defeat the Clock Man. He was a bad guy. Every single broccoli he ate. He thought they were ice cream. And then the Clock Man had funny jokes. It was, why does the spaghetti cross the road. Because it's trying to get to the other side. The superheroes got lost in the forest and there was a wolf named Wolfy. The forest ground was shaking and it cracked a little bit. Then the whole forest cracked. But the superheroes could fly. And then the wolf got to a building that was his house. And then there was lava all over the place. There was a bear that helped the wolf. Then the bear fixed the hot lava. The end!
