

Title:Home Alone
Written By:Abigail Holmes

One dark and stormy night when the Wilson kids were home alone. The two Wilson kids were out on vacation. Left the three kids there to take care of themselves.

The sisters all being a different age was difficult. Olivia was six and she was the smartest of the three. Cortney was the most careful and she was ten. Last the oldest was thirteen and she was named Maddie she was the brave one.

"Olivia" said Maddie. What is it? Time to watch the news. "Ok I'll get Cortney". Said Olivia.

Once the news came on the girls were scared a murder is on the loose and they are home alone. The girls knew they had to be ready just in case so they got a baseball bat blankets a lighter and food and headed down stairs to hide.

As soon as they were downstairs they lit a candle covered up and ate a few snacks but after a few minutes the girls heard a crash.

What was that? "I don't know I'll go check it out" said Maddie. Go hide she shouted.

As the girls rushed to hide Olivia grabbed the phone and rushed into a closet. Then she called nine one one she said her address then hung up. She heard footsteps coming closer and closer. After he was about to open the closet door Maddie made a noise and after he was out of the room she headed to the window and jumped out it and went to the nearest neighbor and told them what had happened.

Once Maddie got her other sister out before the robber could find Maddie the police pulled in the driveway and then arrested the man. After a day the Wilsons kids parents returned home. They heard what happened and told them we will move away and go on vacation together next time we are sorry.

The End