

The Princess Soccer Game

By Amaya Workman

On one warm afternoon there lived a princess named Nya and she was on a walk. And why she was on her walk she saw a princess soccer game.

So Nya ran and ran and she ran until she got to her castle.

And asked her dad to sign her up for princess soccer and he said no.

So she begged and begged and she begged her dad in till he finally said yes and she got to play princess soccer . They won a game and got to the championships. And she lived happily ever after.

THE END.