Written By: Cale McNab

There once was a huge storm. Bob and Steve were best friends so they spent most of their time together. They were playing video games for one hour so Steve wanted a break so they went outside to get some fresh air. Then Bob and Steve heard a siren so they ran inside to see what it was. So they looked on the TV and saw an alert flode in Orlando Florida, the first place it's going to hit downtown. So the two boys got on the ladder and climbed it so they could be on the roof and be higher up but on the roof had a plank.

Then Bob saw that the water was rising really fast. So the two boys took the plank on another house that was taller. Then Steve and Bob both look down and see crocodiles. Steve always chews gum and he had a pack of hubba bubba gum. So then Steve threw the gum really far and Bob asked him why would you do that and Steve asked do you see any more crocodiles?

When Bob and Steve were not paying attention the water kept rising until they could feel the water so they picked up the plank and put it until there were no more houses, only skyscrapers. Bob saw one of those skyscrapers window cleaners so they had to swim to get there. It was not easy. Steve press and there they went when they were on top tons of erasers and a magnifying glass and out of the erasers they spelled SOS. Bob and Steve were a little wet and cold but at the end they got rescued by a helicopter.
