Written By:Chloe Patterson

One day there were two little girls. The two little girls were named Chloe and Hailey. They were both in fourth grade. So they were sitting at recess at CIS shcool when Chloe had a idea that she wanted to not be so shy any more. So Chloe went over to a girl that was sitting alone and asked her to play.

But the girl said "no!". Because of that Chloe walked away sad. But she did not give up and asked her friend Hailey if she wanted to play with her and Hailey said "yes of course". So Hailey and Chloe asked lots of people to play and after a while they made a popular game with lots of people.

After that the mean girl that rejected playing with Hailey and Chloe came over and asked to play too. So Chloe and Hailey do the right thing and said yes but they tell the girl to never be mean or you will get meanness back and Hailey and Chloe learn the girls name "it is sammy" said the girl. So all the girls played happily ever after.
