

Title: My First Week at a New School

Written By: Isabella Swank

I'm worried about moving to a new school.. What if no one will be my friend? My mom said that I would be just fine, but I don't really believe that. I really hope my mom is right.. Because if not, then this will be a crazy school year!

Hi! My name is Layla. I am 14 years old in the 8th grade, about to be 9th. My mom is named Amanda, and my dad is named Louis. We had to move states because a bomb hit in Ohio, where I used to live. Now my parents and I live in Missouri, which means I have to move schools. I used to go to Norton Middle School, but now that I moved, my parents are moving me to this school called Sunnyview Middle School. I hope I will make new friends, because if not, then I will be alone..I hope I will be okay..

Today I am going back to school shopping with my mom. I have a lot to get on this shopping list! I think my mom would spend more than one hundred dollars...yikes! This school really has to take some things off this shopping list. My school supplies were one hundred fifty dollars! Wow, thanks school! Heh..heh!

Today is my first day of school! I'm so excited but a little bit nervous. I picked out a cute outfit, so I hope I will make some friends today!

Yesterday was a pretty good day! I made two new friends! Their names were Kaitlynn and Riley! They were really kind to me. I heard there were two mean girls named Leah and Sienna, so I better watch out!

UGH! Yesterday was awful! Leah and Sienna hurt my feelings! After school today I was crying in my room. I was also crying at school! Embarrassing, right?! But my friends helped me out, so I knew it would be okay. I actually told the principal about it before I went home from school, his name is Principal Johnson. He told me he would talk to them tomorrow.

They bullied me again. This time though I stood up for myself. I did make sure they wouldn't come to bully me again. I gotta go do homework, so I will talk with you again tomorrow!

The first week wasn't too horrible, other than Leah and Sienna, the first week was good! I found out that Leah and Sienna were lying in the office while talking to the principal..so I have to meet with him again after school today. Leah and Sienna even got boys to be rude to others! Their names are Carter and Logan. This isn't right, I hope those mean girls get bored of me, and lose their target at me soon..
