

Title: The Deadly Evil Chicken
Written By: Lance Underation

Do you want to hear my story about the deadly evil chicken and creeper? It all started at dawn in a flat water biome. The chicken had an evil plan. But, he needs gunpowder to turn into a creeper yet, he has none.

So, he asked his secret creeper for some gunpowder. The creeper was glad to help. So, he gave the evil chicken some gunpowder. The creeper didn't know the chicken was evil so he found out the hard way.

Then, the chicken turns into a supercharged creeper using lightning, gunpowder, and some creeper DNA. Then, explodes the world while eating Chimichangas. But then, alien chickens come along and put the world back together. The chicken says "you can't stop me!" The same things happen over and over again.

So, the chicken makes the largest explosion ever. But, the aliens keep coming back and putting the world back together. After that, the aliens take the chicken and put him in their ship. Finally they take him 900,000,000,000,000 light years away so he could rule his own world.

The chicken landed in a jail cell when he was kicked off the ship. For the rest of his life he was eating peas, mashed, potatoes, and ground beef.

This is why you should never be EVIL!

This is my story

I hope you liked it!!!
