

The Turtle Race

Written By: Mason Caron

He was nervous if he was going to win. One day Jim the turtle was taking a walk when he remembered about the International turtle putting a sock on race.

"I need to sign up for the race." Jim said.

He went to the town hall to sign up. He won the first 3 rounds he was waiting to see if he would make the championship.

He was sitting there nervous. He didn't know if he would make it. They called the 3 turtles that made it to the championship.

"And the turtles moving on to the championship are Tim the turtle, John the turtle, and Jim the turtle." Exclaimed the announcer.

Jim was excited he started celebrating. Two hours later he quickly fell fast asleep.

2 weeks later... It was one day before the event. Tim the turtle and John the turtle were acting strange.

"We need to find a plan to sabotage Jim so he can't beat us." Tim explained.

They came up with a very odd idea. They took everything he had: his couch, tv, his bed, and his training supplies.

Jim called the police and he was furious. Luckily, Jim got all his stuff back.

It was 1 hour before the race. Jim the turtle was sitting on his couch then he remembered he had to train.

"I need to start training." Jim yelled.

He trained and made it on time. He was very nervous he didn't have enough training and he knew that Tim and John were training the entire break.

The announcer screamed. "3..2..1... GO!"

Jim started he was a quarter way done but he saw John and Tim halfway done and he went as fast as he could. By the time he knew he was an inch from winning.

He thought he won but the announcer said it was a tie.

They put the tie under review...

Then they said Jim won the grand prize of a new 10 pairs of socks. He was very happy he won even though he lost everything he had and only got to train for an hour.
