One day there was a class of fifth graders who went to a museum of dinosaurs then something went really wrong.

“Woah” said the class

“Ok class, we’re here now i’ll take attendance,” explained Mrs. Brown, their science teacher.

After Mrs. Brown took attendance and told the class she had to use the restroom. She told them to stay here. Then right as she left all the dinosaur skeletons started coming to life!

“Ahhhhhhhhh” the kids screamed.

“Run run to that room” Jacob yelled.

After the kids got inside they were amazed it turned out to be a time machine room.

“Should we go in?” Jacob asked.

“Yeah but don’t touch anything,” Molly replied.

When they went inside Jacob saw a big red button and wanted to push it.

“Don’t push it!” the class yelled.

Jacob pushed it anyway and all the kids screamed in fear. Suddenly the doors opened and they were so amazed.

“We must be back at the dinosaur time” Molly explained

“Cool” one of the kids replied.

“Wait if the dinosaurs are still alive then an asteroid is gonna hit soon” explained Molly.

So Jacob thought of a plan he had three different ideas to stop the asteroid. First Molly tried to hit them and try to get them to move, but they retaliated.

It stood up on its front legs and kicked Molly with its back.

“Oww” Molly mumbled.

Then they rounded up the dinosaurs and one by one tried to fit them into the time machine. They only got about two pterodactyls before the time machine was full.

“Uhh guys we don’t have much time, about five minutes” Jacob told them.

“I have an idea,” Molly answered.

Molly told the class that they could build a catapult and she would help them carry a huge boulder onto the catapult. Then they would fire the boulder at the right time to hit the asteroid.

“Ok all set” Molly said.

“Ummm guys look” Jacob yelled.

The asteroid was coming and they quickly fired the boulder and...they did it!

“ Yes, now we can finally go home,” the kids said.

The kids jumped back into the time machine and Molly pushed the button.

They were teleported back up to the museum and got back to the teacher.

“Mrs. Brown Mrs. Brown we found a time machine and traveled back to the dinosaur time and saved the dinosaurs” Jacob yelled.

“Kids kids there's no such thing as a time machine,” Mrs Brown told them.

“C'mon Mrs. Brown we can show you it's in that room” Molly explained.

“Kids there's nothing there” Mrs. Brown answered.

“Huh but but there was a time machine right there Mrs. Brown” Jacob said.

Twenty thirty two was a strange year for the kids in Dallas.
