

Animal Kingdom

Once upon a time there were all kinds of animals. The animals were all very friendly except five dinosaurs. They were all eight years old and big bullies. They aggravate everyone except one family of each animal in the kingdom. Those were the oldest family of each species. The oldest family of each species was trying to make things better with the mean group. They did get four to go but the leader, also known as venom, threatened a new four. And if they chose not to follow his instructions Mason and Lessa would be captured. They are lions and lions are the kings over everything. Mason and Lessa were twins; they also had to have king and queen lessons; so they overheard Venom talking so they were prepared. They were the prince and princess. Creak creak venom was gettin closer but Mason and Lessa were ready they were awake. Venom was at the top; they were giving him a bit. BOO! They both said ohno Venom fell off the cliff Lessa went after Venom. She saved him but she broke her leg. Venom promised not to bully or aggravate anymore, he also said thank you and they all lived happily ever after.
