

Lost in the Dark

One dark night a family was going on a hike at their cabin until something bad happened.

“Are you excited to go on the hike Willow”, asked Ella?

“Yes”, answered Willow.

“C’mon kids”, yelled Willow's mom.

“Were coming”, yelled Willow.

Everybody was ready to go. They started the hike. They were 2 miles in until Willow saw a bunny on the trail next to them leading to a lake.

“Ella, look at the bunny”, said Willow

Ella looked

Willow followed the bunny. Then Ella chased after Willow. Eventually they got to the lake and the bunny hopped away. Ella realized they were lost.

“Willow you got us lost, and it’s getting dark”, screamed Ella!

“Sorry”, mumbled Willow.

Ella turned her back and didn’t say a word to Willow. Ella even started to cry.

Willow thought to herself, I feel bad now. OoOo I know! Willow started to go look at their footprints, but it was sprinkling. Then Willow remembered she had her phone when she was getting in her bag she noticed her keychain was gone. Willow got her phone out but there was no service. Willow tried screaming for help.

“HELPPP”, screamed Willow!

That didn’t work either. Willow walked down a random path.

“OMG”, yelled Willow!

“What”, asked Ella?

“I found my keychain that I lost, maybe it will lead us to the cabin”, replied Willow.

“OMG lets go”, yelled Ella.

Ella and Willow kept going until....they found the cabin!

“Omg look it’s Willow and Ella”, yelled Willow’s mom!

“We were so worried! We called the cops and everything to look for you guys”,said Willow's dad!

“Well we're okay thanks to Willow. Look I’m sorry Willow I guess I doubted you but you did it and I’m sorry for getting mad. Were still friends right”, asked Ella?

“Hmmm let me think.....yes and always”, replied Willow.

Ella and Willow's family stayed at the cabin for the next 2 days. After that they went back to their hometown and Willow and Ella became even better best friends.
